

OUTDOOR ADVENTURE TRAINING

POWDER PREP EQUIPMENT LIST

EVERYTHING YOU NEED TO TRAIN

8 REQUIRED ITEMS	6 OPTIONAL ADDITIONS	0 GYM MEMBERSHIP REQUIRED	28 WEEK PROGRAM
-------------------------------	-----------------------------------	--	------------------------------

THE ESSENTIALS

Everything below is used regularly across the 28 weeks. You can train the entire program in a garage or a spare room, with no gym membership needed.

01 WEIGHTS YOU CAN PROGRESS WITH

This is the one that matters. The Black Diamond phase loads heavy and slow at a 3/0/3 tempo, so a single light pair will not get you through the entirety of the program. Adjustable dumbbells or several fixed pairs give you the room to keep progressing.

- Kettlebells, weight plates, medicine balls and barbells all work. Use what you have.
- We love our adjustable PowerBlock dumbbells. See OAT Member Perks below.

02 TWO STEP-UP SURFACES

Step-ups, step-downs, split squats and lunges run through every phase, and having two heights lets you progress without new equipment.

- 3-8" (8-20 cm): step-downs, beginner step-ups, split squats and lunges.
- 12-18" (30-45 cm): full step-ups and strength progression.
- Get creative: sturdy stools, a coffee table, stairs or bumper plates all work. Just make sure it is stable and safe.

03 MINI LOOP RESISTANCE BANDS

Glute activation, knee alignment and ankle stability. Used in the warm-up of nearly every lower body session.

04 LARGE LOOP RESISTANCE BANDS

Assisted stretching, mobility work, and resistance in pulling movements.

05 YOGA MAT

Mobility, core and recovery routines. Any standard mat will do.

06 FOAM ROLLER

Any density works. Softer rollers are more forgiving for beginners; denser rollers offer deeper tissue release as you progress.

07 MASSAGE BALL

A lacrosse ball or similar. Trigger point release for feet, hips, glutes and back.

08 TRAINING SHOES

A flat, stable shoe for lifting. Minimal or barefoot-style shoes let you feel the floor, which matters for the single-leg and balance work throughout the program.

- We recommend Xero Shoes or a similar minimal barefoot-style shoe.

NICE TO HAVE

None of these are necessary to complete the program. Each adds variety or makes a specific block easier.

STABILITY BALL

Core and stability work. Get the size appropriate for your height.

BOSU BALL

Balance and ankle stability. A foam pad, pillow or folded blanket does much the same job.

TRX SUSPENSION TRAINER

A wide range of bodyweight stability and endurance movements.

RESISTANCE BANDS WITH HANDLES

Adds upper body variety if your dumbbells are limited.

BOTTLE ROLLER

Turns a Nalgene or Hydro Flask into a foam roller. Ideal for travel and ski trips.

CORK MASSAGE BALL

A very light option for staying mobile on the road.

- See OAT Member Perks below.

- From The Foot Collective. See OAT Member Perks below.

OAT MEMBER PERKS

Codes are available to all active OAT members on the OAT Perks page within the member hub, along with the rest of our partner offerings across gear, mobility, nutrition and more.

BRAND	CATEGORY	OAT MEMBERS GET
POWERBLOCK	Training Tools	$20 off your first order
BOTTLE ROLLER	Mobility	20% off your first order
THE FOOT COLLECTIVE	Mobility	10% off all products
SOLE FOOTBEDS	Gear	$20 off your first order